How to prepare for the FRM® Exam?

FRM® Exam is an involved exam which is application oriented. It cannot be cleared by mere mugging of formulas or text. A reasonable estimate to prepare for the exam would be 200 hours. Depending on an individual's academic background and work experience, preparation for the exam would take approximately 3 months. GARP™ suggests that "FRM® Core Readings" and the Phillip Jorian Handbook should be referred for preparing for the Exam.

You will need more than just a set of notes/assigned reading in getting you passed. Pristine have designed an Exam-focused Classroom Training Program to speed up your exam preparation by covering the major topics in the training, which can reduce your exam preparation time from 200 hrs to 100hrs.
